Atlantic City Expects 17,000 Mystic Shriners

Season of Conventions at City by the Sea Now
Opening.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 10.—The autumn will be marked by the arrival of many conventions. There is comparatively little convention activity in summer, but with September preparations are made for many national and State meetings of bodies representing a variety of interests. The National Association of Employing Lithographers has a four-day conference at the Ambassador hotel this week. The United States Fisheries Association will hold a convention with headquarters at the Breakers, September 16 and 17. Members of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, will be here for a ceremonial session September 17. It is expected that 17,000 members of the order will be here for the occasion. The annual outing of Mecca Temple of the order, New York city, which was to have been held here to-day, has been postponed.

More than 2,000 world war veterans of the Fifth Division will be here tomorrow in connection with the first annual reunion of war veterans in Philadelphia. The visit also will commemorate the battle of St. Mihiel, which opened on September 12, 1918, and in which 2,000 of the division's men were killed and 10,000 wounded. Later 5,000 were decorated for their services.

Sir Richard Quires, Premier of Newfoundland, arrived at the Traymore early in the week with Lady Quires and Miss Quires. Sir William Wiseman of London was a recent arrival at the Ritz-Carlton. Mr. Felix Newman of Vienna was one of the foreign visitors during the week at the Ambassador. Mr. Thomas Walter, governor of Washington, has been at the Denham.

Gov. Edwards was guest of honor at the "Governor's Ball," which closed the fall pageant at this evening he was the guest at a dinner of Democrats. The Governor met Mr. Hiram Maxim, who was the Father Neptune of the pageant. Mr. John Drew, the veteran actor, who was at the dinner, was one of the judges of the beauty contest of the pageant, as was Mr. Howard Chandler Christy, who also was at the Traymore with Mrs. Christy.

Holy See Now Issues Own Passports

Rome, Sept. 10.—The issuance of passports has been recognized by Italy as a prerogative of the Holy See and Italian law in it a step toward acknowledging one attribute of the temporal power. Italian authorities observe the necessity "as a small thing in itself, but of great political importance."

Until a few months ago, Vatican diplomats travelled in possession of passports of the country from which they came. If the representatives of the Holy See were Italian they would procure their passport from the regular Italian authorities, and if they were of other nationalities they would travel under that protection. When the Holy See needed a passport for one of its emissaries the request was made to the Italian Ministry of Foreign Affairs, where they receive the Italian visa.

"It demonstrates," says the Gazzetta Ufficiale, "that the hostile attitude existing between the Vatican and Italy is disappearing."

White Mountain Resorts Prepare for Late Season

Several Large Hotels to Remain Open During Part of October—Outdoor Sports and Diversions
Continue to Attract Throngs.

WHITE MOUNTAIN, N. H., Sept. 10.—The hotels in the White Mountains are preparing for the autumn season. There are promises to be the liveliest autumn season they have ever had. The autumn season always overlaps the winter sports season to some extent, as snow flies early in the White Hills and some of the resorts have coasting as early as November. The Mount Washington Hotel at Bretton Woods will remain open until early October and expects a large number of arrivals from Bar Harbor, Newport, the North Shore and other seaside resorts.

Also open until the first of October will be the Crawford House in Crawford Notch, the Profile House at Franconia Notch, the Intervale House at Intervale, Gray's Inn at Jackson, the Balsams at Dixville Notch, the Sinclair at Bethlehem, and until September 25 the Waumbek and Maplewood at Jefferson. The Sunset Hill House and Look Off at Sugar Hill are closing late, and Peckett's at Sugar Hill will be open during the entire winter.

The Mountain View at Whitefield will close October 15 so that work upon a fifty room addition may proceed, and the Fabian will cater to late season guests. The Randall and Kearsarge at North Conway, Fred and Sam at the Waumbek, Chocoma Inn at Chocoma, Russell cottages at Kearsarge, the Bellevue, Penderexter Mansion and Elmwood Inn at Intervale, Eagle Mountain House and Jackson Falls House at Jackson, the Ravine House at Randolph, Elm Tree Inn and Polly's Inn at Colebrook are among houses that will remain open well through October.

Bretton Woods. The autumn season at Bretton Woods has been launched with motoring, horseback riding and outdoor sports, not the least attractive of which is mountain climbing over the shaded trails. The season is being to motor from the seashore resorts to Bretton Woods to spend the period when the autumn foliage is at its best and to make the round of the White Mountain resorts before going home for the winter.

Gov. Nathan L. Miller of New York, with Mrs. Miller, Misses Marian and Margaret Miller, has arrived at the Mount Washington Hotel to spend a week.

Much entertaining has been done at the Mount Washington, and the largest party in the Cave Grill was that of George Crouse, Jr., of Akron, Ohio, who was the guest of thirty-five other from Whitefield.

Mrs. A. G. Southworth of New York entertained at dinner for fourteen, and other dinners were given by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kenna, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Preston and Mrs. Robert Stead of Newport and Washington are here; also Mrs. H. C. Patterson of Philadelphia and Mrs. Max Grundner of New York.

Robert W. Parsons of New York has been spending several days here with his daughter, Mrs. George W. Redwood, who is here on a visit to her mother, Mrs. W. Wallace Lyon. Mr. and Mrs. W. Wallace Lyon is spending the week at the Mount Washington, where he is known as one of the old guides. From the Mount Washington, Mr. and Mrs. George W. and Mrs. H. C. Howe and son of Newport have been at the Mount Washington this week and Mrs. H. Holbrook Curtis called here on her way to New York. Mr. and Mrs. George W. and Mrs. H. C. Howe and son of Newport have been at the Mount Washington this week and Mrs. H. Holbrook Curtis called here on her way to New York.

Raymond Haverley of New York has arrived here. Mrs. Norris W. Mundy and Mrs. Charles S. Haskins have come to New York. Mrs. Haskins will visit her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Haskins Tobin, in San Francisco, before going to England to see her other daughter, Mrs. Noel Haskins Murphy.

Crawford Notch. Several farewell parties have been given in the Canteen at the Crawford House. Mr. and Mrs. George W. and Mrs. H. C. Howe and son of Newport have been at the Mount Washington this week and Mrs. H. Holbrook Curtis called here on her way to New York.

At the Elmhurst Inn, Intervale, for the benefit of Christ Church, the only church in that community, the autumn season will be for the maintenance of the parish. Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Batchelder of Scarsdale, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Kolman of Irvington, Dr. and Mrs. A. Zeigler, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Winkup and W. B. Perkins of New York are arriving this week at the Hotel Bellevue. Dr. and Mrs. John Joseph Nutt, Miss Jean Nutt and her family are here from New York arrivals at the Intervale House.

At the Elmhurst Inn are Mr. E. H. Stevens, Miss Clara McMillin and Miss Kate Savin of New York. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Adams, Frank Vedder and D. W. Adams of Johnston are also here.

Julius King 24 is at the Maplehurst from New York. Dr. and Mrs. J. Douglas Malcolm and Miss Lucille Crow are at the Alpine.

Golf and Bridge for Late Season at Spring Lake

Officials of Edison Companies to Hold Convention at Resort.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
SPRING LAKE BEACH, Sept. 10.—Colorful events are being crowded into the late weeks of the season here, and society is planning to carry on a programme of social and sporting activities well into the autumn. The Bathing and Tennis Club is to remain open for several weeks yet, and in addition to the sporting events there will be dances and bridge parties. The club championships of the Golf and Country Club are being played. The first round of match play was held to-day with eight men playing. They qualified early in the week. Those who played to-day were C. A. McCormick, Eustace De Cordova, B. H. Ridder, Chester L. Maxwell, Horace T. Cook, Scott Scammell, Edward M. Van Velsdonk and Earle Lewis. Mr. Lewis on Labor Day won the Monmouth cup. In the Monday event Scott Scammell, H. A. Wilson and C. A. McCormick tied for first honors in the Class A sweepstakes with net scores of 75. In Class B first honors were won by Frederick Rodowalk with a 74; second, William A. Schreiber, 75; Edward F. Hooper, 77.

In the thirty-six hole handicap tournament, which was played on Labor Day over the eighteen hole course of the new Homestead Club, the President's cup was won by W. S. Bouse of the Deal Club. Dr. H. V. Garrity of the Asbury Park Club, although he had a handicap kept him from the victor's laurels, turned in the lowest amateur card that has ever been played over the course, a 72, for eighteen holes.

Officials of Edison companies from all parts of the country are gathering here for the opening on Tuesday of the annual convention of the National Association of Edison Illuminating Companies. More than 40 delegates will be here for the convention, which is to take place at the Essex and Sussex Hotel. On Monday night there will be a reception for the members of the association, given by the past president and presidents and their wives. During the mornings and evenings the delegates will "talk shop," but during the afternoon they will indulge in golfing tournaments, tennis matches, fishing trips and other recreations. On Thursday night there is to be a dinner and dance, which will bring the convention to a close.

Mr. George W. Kavanaugh entertained at a tea and dance at the Essex and Sussex this week for Miss Gloria Gould, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould of Georgian Court, Lakewood, Miss Elizabeth Jule Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward I. Edwards, and Miss Dorothy Markham, daughter of John Markham, of New York. The guests included Misses Gladys De Cordova, Hermine Bickler, Gladys Long, Anne Ingersoll, Iona Long, Margarita Klen, Beatrice Haden, Mary Catherine Gillespie, Allen D. Jones, Joseph W. Francis, Gladys Bodine, Margaret Shippen Lynch, Elizabeth Davis, Marion Long and Margaretta White, Mrs. Charles J. Warner and Mrs. Robert Dowling.

Also Frederick Dugan, John Illingworth, Wallace Suthphen, Charles J. Werner, Allan Haggerty, William W. Murray, Donald Chivers, Dr. and Mrs. Edward Hill, James Eben, Meredith Hemphill, Bernard Belknap, George Crook, Robert Norton, Elliot Wiegand, Bernard Bridget, Robert Seacock, John Gillespie, Allen D. Jones, Joseph W. Francis, Gladys Bodine, Margaret Shippen Lynch, Elizabeth Davis, Marion Long and Margaretta White, Mrs. Charles J. Warner and Mrs. Robert Dowling.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Hamilton of New York will remain late at their cottage. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Poole of New York are at their farm house, which is near that of Mrs. Poole's mother, Mrs. J. Gould of Georgian Court, Lakewood. Mr. and Mrs. Joel S. Collin, Jr., of Montreal are making many tours from their summer home at Sugar Hill, frequently stopping at the Mount Washington Hotel at luncheon for members of their house party.

Peckett's at Sugar Hill, the rendezvous for afternoon tea for parties from all over the country, is open to-day. It will attract many here, and following the close of the Profile House several members of that colony expect to go to Peckett's for the autumn season.

Maplewood. Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Hamilton of New York will remain late at their cottage. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Noted Portrait Painters in Colony at Deauville

Orpen, British Artist, Working on Pictures of Mr.
Otto H. Kahn and His Daughter, Miss Margaret Kahn—Others Sketching Types.

Special Correspondence to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
DEAUVILLE, Aug. 21.
THERE is talent among the painters and sculptors to be noted in Deauville this summer. Orpen, the British painter, is doing portraits of Mr. Otto H. Kahn and his daughter, Miss Margaret Kahn. He passes the greater part of his day at Mr. Kahn's villa working on the two portraits and is often seen at night sketching types at the Casino tables. Then there are Paul Helleu, the French artist, who is noticed at the Casino sketching types, and Beltram, the Spanish artist, who has painted the portraits of several American women, among them Mrs. Cooper Hewitt and Mrs. James Hazen Hyde. And there is Mr. William S. Horton, the American landscape painter, who is preparing for an exhibition next winter.

Prince Pierre Troubetzkoy, the sculptor, is noticed at the polo games every afternoon, as he is doing a bronze group of polo players. He is exhibiting several works at the Casino. Among them is a small bronze of Carpentier. Mrs. Leslie Cotton, the American portrait painter, who has recently completed the portrait of Prince Christopher of Greece, has been here for a few days' rest.

There are several American women who have married European titles who have villas here and expect to remain late after the rush of the season is over. The Duchess of Torlonia, who was Miss Elsie Moore, has a villa at Houleuvre. She and her husband and two children motor over to Deauville every day for the races and often are seen at the dinner dances at the Casino.

The Marquis de Polignac, who was Mrs. James B. Eustis, has a villa here. She and the Marquis are often seen at the polo games. The Prince and Princess Basiano have a villa near Deauville. She was Miss Marguerite Clarke.

Dinners at Casino. The Crown Prince of Kapurthala and the Little Princess, who is popular wherever she goes, do much in the way of entertaining. They give a dinner at the Casino every night and there are usually several Americans among their guests. Last night they entertained Mrs. W. B. Phillips and Mrs. Marburg. The Maharajah of Kapurthala and his former Spanish wife, who recently were divorced, are much missed this season. They were prominent in Deauville society last year and inquiry is often made about them. The Maharajah is in Calcutta and the former Maharajah is in Evian since her divorce.

M. Henri Letellier, the French publisher, frequently entertains at the Casino. Last night he gave a dinner for a group of French and American actresses. Miss Peggy Hopkins Joyce, whose divorce suit seems to be as much talked about here as in New York, was among them. Miss Lillian Walker, the American movie star, was there, and also William Farnum. Then there were Miss Shirley Kellogg and Mistinguette, the French actress, and George Middleton, the American playwright.

Speaking of movie stars, Lady Diana Manners is attracting no small amount of attention for her beauty and pretty dresses. She is on the beach every morning and at the tables every night with her husband, Mr. Duff Cooper.

During the month of July and the first half of August the one criticism of Deauville was that the life had become tame and there was a decided lack of animation. The visitors were numerous enough, but there was no getting around the fact that the spirit of "La Plage Fleurie" was not what it once was.

The visitors, however, were patient, for they were promised that Deauville would be itself again for the "grande semaine." If one dared offer a complaint or even remark upon the lack of spirit, the response was that the "grande semaine" was coming and that the "grande semaine" was coming and that the "grande semaine" was coming.

The "grande semaine" has come and gone, and the general consensus of opinion is that it was as much of a "grande semaine" as the former part of the season. No one seems to have the courage to come right out and say that the "grande semaine" was a failure, and the actual facts prove what the visitors have been shy about saying. At the big game, at the table where only men are permitted to play, and at the general social gatherings, the visitors were closed twice during the week as early as 1 o'clock because the big players were not numerous enough to make it interesting, and the game did play were placing very small and guarded bets.

There have been no big hanches and no rich Cubans to win four million francs in one evening, such as there were last year. There have been Cubans and Cubans, and they have been very "gratifying" to the ladies, and those who have been wearing jewels and ladies, but one only has to recall the sugar story to know that since the ladies must wear jewels the Cubans cannot sit at the tables and run the risk of losing any more.

Loss and Win Fortunes. Every season there is at least one wealthy man in Deauville around whom the bets are laid, and those who win great fortunes; he is the star client of the chic jewellers; his Rolls-Royce is here, there and everywhere; his yacht is in the bay; he is the royal suite at the Normandy; his box at the races is the centre of attraction, all of which means that he is the idol of the feminine element, and no longer content with tips, and the visitors declare that the waters are unreasonably. The truth is when you give a maid ten francs for opening your door when you have given her a key, she will throw it at you and expects a hundred. And if you give the maître d'hôtel a hundred franc note to obtain a good table at the Casino dinner, he expects a thousand, and you sit in a corner, and then the question on every lip is: Is Deauville being killed, and why?

Fishing Enjoyed by Visitors at Seabright. Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
SEABRIGHT, Sept. 10.—A harvest ball closed the season of social activities at the Peninsula Hotel to-night. The hotel was closed to the public, and the guests were the members of the house party. The Beach Club, however, is to remain open for the members during the remainder of September.

Residents near Seabright and the other town set of doubles on Tuesday are enjoying fishing. Snappers, or young blue fish, have been caught in large numbers, the fish taking bait as rapidly as hooks could be prepared.

Arrivals at the Peninsula House include Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Christman, Mrs. C. L. Buttle, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. MacDonald and Joseph Herbert of New York and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Arndt of Hartsdale, N. Y.

Rotarians End Conference With Dance at Asbury

Thousands of War Veterans
Expected at Resort This Week for Convention.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
ASBURY PARK, N. J., Sept. 10.—Ending a two days' conference of Rotary executives of the Third district, a reception and ball was held to-night at the Monterey Hotel for Rotarians and their wives from the district. District Gov. J. Lyle Kilmon presided at the conference session.

Thousands of war veterans will arrive next week for the annual convention and sports carnival of the New Jersey American Legion. National officers and many legion men from other States are to be here as guests of the State Rotarians and prominent speakers, including one time Gov. William N. Runyon, are to deliver patriotic addresses. A pageant will be one of the important features of the four day session here. Prizes are to be awarded to the posts having the finest service band, the best post-vice band, the largest representation in line, the largest percentage of membership in line, the best appearing post and the best emblematic float.

A track meet, a State golfing championships, tennis tournaments and the State Legion boxing championships are to be held as features of the annual session.

There will be much of merriment during the convention through the presence here of the famous "40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux," the Forty Eight Horsemen, who provide entertainment during the four day stay of the legion men and also present the burlesque features in the big Friday parade.

Headquarters of the New Jersey department of the legion will be established at the Metropolitan and the auxiliary headquarters is to be at the New End Hotel.

The Metropolitan, one of the resort's largest hotels, is among those which are remaining open for the winter this year. The Metropolitan, the Asbury House, Metropolitan and other large houses there will be dances and other social events during the entire winter.

The weekly dances at the Arcade closed to-night, and the boardwalk dancing will be confined hereafter to the Casino, where the Casino orchestra will play the entire winter.

The weekly dances at the Asbury Park golf course are being planned for the winter season to get the course in fine condition before the opening of play in the spring.

Harvest Dance for Ex-Service Men at Greenwich

Dahlia Show Held at Place of Judge and Mrs. J. T. Marean
—Arrivals at Hotels.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
GREENWICH, Conn., Sept. 10.—Society was largely represented at a harvest dance given in the Belle Haven Casino to-night for the benefit of ex-service men. Miss Polly Lincoln was chairman of the committee of arrangements, and her assistants were Misses Winifred and Eleanor Croft, Ethel Hayes, Elizabeth Hyde, Virginia Sperry, Emily Lincoln of Greenwich and New York and Dora Hotchkiss of Rye.

Another event to-day which was attended by many prominent women of Greenwich was a dahlia show, garden party and memorial tea for the benefit of the Dr. Anna Howard Shaw memorial fund at the place of Judge and Mrs. Joseph T. Marean, Green's Farms, Conn. It was held under the auspices of the Fairfield county committee of the fund, of which Mrs. E. B. Curtis of Greenwich is chairman. Mrs. Curtis, with Mrs. Ernest Thompson Seton, chairman of the fund in Connecticut, and Mrs. Marean were the hostesses. The dahlias in Judge and Mrs. Marean's gardens are said to be the finest in the county.

The Indian Harbor Yacht Club was the scene of many gala events on Monday. Yacht races among the Arrow and Indian Harbor one design knockabout classes were sailed by women, which proved to be a novel feature. In the former class Mrs. H. N. Whittlesley guided Mr. Whittlesley's yacht Salome II. to victory, and in the knockabout class Mrs. F. H. Bontecou, at the helm of the Keowayden, was the winner. Another race of the Arrows was held in which George Bradish, James Hayes, H. P. Richards, Mrs. E. H. North, A. B. North, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Preuss, Col. C. C. Carpenter of the United States Marine Corps and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Kemper.

A dinner dance was held at the Greenwich Country Club last Saturday night which was attended by over 200 persons. Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Foster of New York were the dinner party Monday evening at the Pickwick Arms for a number of friends. Among the recent arrivals from New York are Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Collins, Oliver C. Bryant, Mrs. James M. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. McKie, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Tierney, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Hollister, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Richards, Mrs. E. H. North, A. B. North, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Preuss, Col. C. C. Carpenter of the United States Marine Corps and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Kemper.

The Pickwick Inn will close next Thursday. Fully 100 new patrons were registered there for the holidays. The New York arrivals included Misses Peggie Davis and Diana Harrison, James Hayes, H. P. Mexico City, Sept. 10.—Travelers returning here from the State of Yucatan describe that region as a Socialist stronghold, with radicalism strongly entrenched, from the Governorship down to the most minor office.

Felipe Carrillo, member of the Federal Chamber of Deputies, whose radicalism recently led to attempts to oust him from office, is reported as the "strong" leader and in all probability will be elected Governor at the elections next fall.

Although the radicals are divided into two groups, the regular Socialist party and the Socialist party of the Southeast, of which Carrillo is the head—they are united in the cause of Communism, it is reported, and operating as the "League of Resistance." Membership cards to this organization are printed on flaming red paper. Its letter heads are printed in red and it is said that all official documents are written with red ink.
